WEDDING BROCHURE 2026

“Funny, I never thought the most romantic day of my life would be anything like this.”

INTRODUCTION

I'm Jordan, a cinematographer and storyteller.

My work is rooted in observation and restraint. I approach weddings with an editorial sensibility, focusing on natural pacing, composition, and the moments that happen in between rather than directing or staging the day.

I studied Film & TV Production at The Savannah College of Art & Design, with a background in fashion and beauty films. That experience continues to shape how I work, prioritizing rhythm and intention over trends or formulas.

With more than 100 weddings filmed, my approach is calm and unobtrusive, designed to support the planner-led flow of the day while capturing what matters most. Years from now, these films become a way back. I'm grateful to be trusted with preserving that.

EDITORIAL COUPLE SESSION

The Editorial Couple Session offers a quiet space to capture who you are together — outside the structure of the wedding day. It's personal, flexible, and designed around your energy as a couple.

Whether it's set in a place that means something to you, styled like a scene from a favorite film, or simply filmed during a laid-back moment with close friends, this shoot adds depth and intention to your final film by showing the love that led to the wedding day. It's not about posing, it's about presence. Real connection, beautifully documented.
